THE LIBRARY MONTHLY

Library Autumn Reading Challenge

This term the library team are challenging you to read more books.

Autumn is a great time to start a new habit and commit to reading more often. As the season starts to change and the weather pushes us inside a bit more why not use the time to settle somewhere warm and get stuck into a book!

To take part simply pick up a bookmark in the library, write your name on it and then get reading. Keep a record of the books you read by colouring in an autumnal icon for each book you finish. You have until the end of term (20th December) to see how many books you can read and every bookmark with 5 or more icons will earn a reward!

Books and Biscuits Book Club

The St Edward's Book Club - Books and Biscuits will be starting again from Monday 23rd September and will run every Monday after school in the library. This term we will be choosing a new book to read and discuss as a group while also enjoying a few biscuits along the way. So, if you love books, would like to read something new or just fancy a new social activity join us for book club, every Monday 3.15pm-4pm in the Library.

National Poetry Day

This year National Poetry Day takes place on Thursday 3rd October and aims to inspire a love of poetry and encourage people to share it with family and friends. This year's theme is Counting, we will be displaying a range of poems in the library to enthuse and inspire you! Take a look at this poem, Ratios by Dean Martin.

I am 50% passing my GCSEs

I am 20% home, the most important place for me

I am 10% jerk chicken: no carbs, only broccoli and cabbage

I am 5% returnee to school: offsite learning is not for me

I am 5% my clothing: my clothes reflect me

I am 5% my height and my hair: single plaits...straight

I am 5% E6, by the bridge that crosses the highway at the end of my road

I am 100% me, Dean Martin.
